A day of the pink T-shirt -campaign against bullying and aggression in school

When we asked our classmates to join us on 27th February - Wednesday to wear something in pink colour we did not believe that we would meet as much enthusiasm and support. Indeed, many students from "Aleko Konstantinov " Primary school supported the campaign against bullying and aggression in school and showed their intolerance to the violence in symbolic way.

Students from 7g class were bought pink ribbons and they decorated themselves and all teachers. A schoolboy from 5v class was brought pink hand-made heart-shaped stickers and the whole class stood with them during this training day. Students from the School Parliament drew posters and decorated the hallways, heading their message to all children for kindness and avoiding aggression.

February 27th became a celebration of friendship and good relationships.

"If I had a shop with two shelves , I would sell- guess what - hope for all "

On 14th February, 2013 we-the students from 3a and 3b class and our teachers and parents visited orphanage "Olga Skobeleva."

The meeting was emotional, it raised many thoughts and feelings in all of us.

For our small hosts children from both classes prepared program. Students from class 3b are expressed themselves as wonderful actors. They made a dramatization of the story

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Their beautiful costumes and good presentation attracted the attention of everybody. Then students from class 3a involved in the club "Fairy Tale – Grammar of the fantasy, " read their original riddles, stories and poems which delighted the children.

We prepared gifts for children-for each of them there was an individual gift and for all - a lot of books, toys, clothes and sweets.

We thank the parents of the two classes that help us with collecting, packaging and delivery of all presents. They helped us to make the children happy and to show them our attention and care.

Republican contest in Stara Zagora

I expected to come The First Republican contest in rhythmic gymnastics, in the city of Linden - Stara Zagora.

Our team had to perform together with five balls. As soon as we started to play, the whole audience starred at us. Our coach was under pressure and looked at us with fear, but with pleasure, too. For her it was not important victory, but to be tolerant with our opponents. When we finished, the audience was clapping hands, and we quickly hopped to our coach. When the contest finished she took us to bring ice cream and fruit drinks. Ice cream is not compatible with my taste, but I ate it. Since then our team has new nickname- "The team".

Grandma Martha in our school library

This year Grandma Martha visited again our school. Traditionally she comes on 1st March , to please first-graders. The celebration began with a talk about the national beliefs and traditions associated with this typical Bulgarian holiday. Then, all students with a loud voice asked her to come. She came and blessed kids to be healthy, white and red, rosy, and smiling. Then she tied children hands with martenitza. Pupils congratulated her with songs and poems.

Patriotism

135 years of Bulgarian Liberty

Liberation of Bulgaria costs expensive and does not come easily. First is Paisii Hilendarsky, Athon monk showed the dream for a new life in Bulgaria with his "History Slavonic."

Next is Bulgarian Revival- a period of upheaval and ideals of struggle for knowledge and belief. After that appeared liberation movement's strategists and national heroes - Rakovski, Levski, Botev , Karavelov.

On 3rd March, 1878 in the town of San Stefano, Yeshilkyoy today, a suburb of Istanbul, is signed the contract between Russia and the Ottoman Empire. It ended the Russian-Turkish War / 1877-1878, / and Bulgarian country was created again after 500 years of Ottoman rule.
