“Listen to the voice of nature”

“I would like to tell the world –

We are heading to destruction!

Stop and listen!

Return to the simple things!

To feelings,

To the joy of beauty,

To the song of birds,

To the soaring wings,

To the colours of the rainbow,

To the grace of the deer.

The breath fades at the sight of the old forest.

Feel the blooming of the flowers at the twilight hour

After the magic of the sunset when we step through reality.

Stand up!

Indulge in the rising sun!

Freeze there, before its power!

The sea and the horizon are in front of you!

We are just small grains

Before the power of the Mother Earth!”

Iliana Toneva - 6v class

“One day my brother and I were walking at the park when we saw a bird with a broken leg. First it was afraid of us but we won its trust soon. My brother took it in his hands. We got home and we disinfected the leg. Then I tied it up. Bobo got a blanket and I put some grass on it. After that I put some corn and crumbs in a bowl. We fed our little bird and it finally fell asleep.

In the evening our parents came home. When they saw our work they were very impressed. But mom said that we have to take the bird to a vet hospital. After a week our bird was feeling great and every time in the park we were playing with it. In the morning it comes to sing at our house. We enjoy every minute listening to the voice of nature.”

Tsvetina Stoyanova - 6a class

Listen to the voice of nature

Nature... what is that? For some people the nature is something, that we have and... that is everything.

Look at these amazing mountains!

Yes, but the nature is something more, we have to save it, not to pollute it. Only people are responsible for the current state of nature.

We pollute it every day! And now the nature wants to say to us to STOP... but how...? It can't talk and a lot of people can't hear it. But there are people, who can. So, just listen to them... and start saving the nature. Look, in Bulgaria, we have a project “Let's clean Bulgaria for one day!” And a lot of people participate in this project. It was really funny and we help to the nature. But I am sure, so there are a lot of other places on the world, where is not clean and they wait only people. Let's clean them and help to the nature!

According to John Ruskin, nature is picture painted for us, day after day, it sculpts views with infinite beauty, if we have eyes to see them...
